Planning America's Anniversary, Utah Style

In 2026, Utah will join with other states to commemorate the 250th anniversary of the founding of the United States. Utahns will come together to reflect on our nation's past, build community, and look toward the future.

In 2023, Gov. Spencer J. Cox and the Utah Legislature created Utah's America250 Commission with the charge to create opportunities for Utahns to celebrate during the upcoming years. The Utah Commission is committed to honor the signing of the Declaration of Independence, not just as a pivotal moment in American history but through the unique and rich lens of Utah's heritage.

This commission endeavors to spark unity, engagement, and education across Utah, bringing together individuals from all walks of life in a shared journey of historical discovery and reflection. We are dedicated to creating initiatives that resonate deeply with Utahns through the strength of our partnerships and communities to foster a connection to our past that is both enlightening and inspiring.

Preamble to the Declaration of Independence

Continental Congress, Philadelphia; July 4, 1776

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness.

The Declaration of Independence, Constitution, and Bill of Rights —Collectively known as the Charters of Freedom— are considered instrumental in the guiding values of the United States.

Introduction

For nearly 250 years, Americans from all walks of life and every corner of the country have had a hand in shaping our nation's history. From time immemorial, the area now known as Utah was populated by Indigenous people. Today's eight federally recognized Tribal nations include the Confederated Tribes of the Goshute, Paiute Indian Tribe of Utah, San Juan Southern Paiute Tribe, Northwestern Band of the Shoshone Nation, Skull Valley Band of Goshute, Ute Indian Tribe of the Uintah and Ouray Reservation, Ute Mountain Ute Tribe, and the Navajo Nation. Spain claimed what is now Utah as part of New Spain from 1500 to 1821. In 1776 a group of Spanish Catholic priests, the Domínguez-Escalante Expedition, left Santa Fe hoping to find a route to the California coast as they traveled through parts of Utah.

No two Americans began their journey in the same place. Except for Native Americans, our ancestors came to these lands from elsewhere. For many Utahns, the quest for statehood provides a lens to reflect upon the full sweep of our nation's past and a deeper understanding of integration and the meaning and promise of America.

Americans have more in common than what divides us through our shared history and celebrations. The semiquincentennial is a chance for all Utahns to feel a part of this major milestone in our nation. We can celebrate courage, liberty, and sacrifice, while also reckoning with difficult truths. By fostering a sense of belonging and coming together with our local communities, we can ensure that Utahns of all ages and backgrounds see themselves in American history. Each family's journey resonates with stories of hard work, doing our part, innovation, and entrepreneurship.

This anniversary presents an opportunity for Americans to pause, acknowledge, celebrate, and turn to family and friends to check in. It is a time to think about our responsibility to our fellow community members and for each of us to consider creative and authentic ways

America's Semiquincentennial

Mission

Utah's America250 commission will honor our nation's past, celebrate our present, and inspire a future that upholds the values that define us as a nation and state.

Vision

Statewide America250 activities and celebrations will generate a wider appreciation of history's relevance to contemporary challenges and inspire Utahns to take steps to improve our communities, state, and nation.

To accomplish our mission, America250 Utah is focused on the following themes:

EDUCATE

Build Understanding

Spark deeper awareness and understanding of the history, values, and democratic processes that shape our nation. Together, these contribute to a better understanding of who we are, where we came from, and where we can go.

ENGAGE

Build Community

Examine Utah's stories and forms of self-expression. Celebrate the unique traditions of people and places throughout the state and develop powerful service-oriented experiences that propel Utahns forward for the next 250 years.

UNITE

Build Bridges

Promote dialogue about our common bonds and themes of the American spirit. Develop forward-looking conversations about individual rights to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness while honoring the freedom of others to do the same.

500 For Our Future

Teaching the next generation about America's history and guiding values will empower our children to lead into the next 250 years of America's story with courage and compassion. Over the next two years, America250 Utah is partnering with Utah Valley University and others to reach 500 K-12 teachers with professional training and resources for civics education.

For educators

"Writings of a Revolution"

Inspired by the Declaration of Independence, this exhibit at the Utah State Capitol will showcase artifacts from the Revolutionary War period. The Declaration of Independence summarized the colonists' motivations to seek independence from Great Britain and is seen as the first formal statement of a nation's intention to choose their own form of government. A traveling display will also be available for arts and cultural organizations, libraries, and other community buildings.

For students, educators, clubs, and individuals

Walk250 Utah

Utahns and Americans have created paths to explore and survive, from seasonal migrations of the Northwestern Band of the Shoshone to pioneer trails, and from transcontinental railways to shoreline routes.
